The Berrow family left Scotland to come and live in France here in Lyons. Today they are playing the Happy Families game.

Lloyd: "Lucca, the grandfather, number five.

Sylvie, in the Family "That Starts Everything", do you have the father, the three?"

Sylvie: "Yes."

Nat: "So Sylvie, could you introduce your family to me?"

Sylvie: "Yes, well then I'll start with me. I am the mother, I'm called Sylvie."

Nat: "And how many languages do you speak?"

Sylvie: "I speak three languages pretty well, very well even. French is my mother tongue, English I speak fluently, Italian I speak very well and then a little bit of Spanish and a little bit of German."

Nat: "Shall we carry on?"

Sylvie: "Yes let me introduce you to my husband Lloyd."

Lloyd: "Hello."

Nat: "So Lloyd, how do you spell that?"

Lloyd: "L L O Y D."

Nat: "And where do you come from Lloyd?"

Lloyd: "Me, I come from Aberdeen, in Scotland."

Sylvie: "And now let me introduce you to my son, the older one."

Lucca : "Lucca."

Sylvie: "Lucca."

Nat: "So Lucca, how do you spell that?"

Lucca: "L.U. Two Cs. A."

Sylvie: "And now let me introduce you to my younger son, Rocco."

Rocco: "I speak English and French."

Rocco: "Do you have number six, the grandmother? Yes, you do!"

Lucca: "I'm joking."

Lloyd: "Oh no!"

Sylvie: "You have a family? (yes)"

Lloyd: "I don't believe it!"

Rocco: "The son, the daughter, the father, the mother, the grandfather and the grandmother."

Sylvie: "Shall we play something else? Shall we play hangman? OK?"

Everybody: "Yes!"
